Chio-Position of the Whigs.

A Circinnati Whig sends us The Express's article (already before our readers) asserting that "The Whig party of Ohio has been ruined by being Abolitionized," &c., &c., and desires in roply to same following facts:

1—The Whig Party of Ohio is neither defeat ed, nor "ruined," as much in 1850 as it was in 1848, when its known Chief was General Taylor! The Democratic majority for Governor is less, by thousands, than the majority of Cassover Taylor, "The Congressional election is better; Taylor —The Congressional election is better: and the Legislature is much better. So much for being "rained."

whigh party of Ohio, and the feet.

3. The Whigh candidate for Governor, (Judge Johnston.) no more "mounted the platform of the Syracoseans," than he did the platform of Babylon; first, because he had nothing to do with New York politics; and secondly, because the Whigh of Ohio had an Anti-Slavery platform, from which they have never departed in any degree—and I add, for the benefit of the New-York Express—mever will.

4. The Whig candidate for Governor was seriously damaged by the Fugitive Slave Law, and the Syracuse bolting.

5. The Congressional election in Ohio has resalted in sending more strong Anti-Slavery members than has ever been sent before, both Whigs and Democrats, a sign not very encouraging to those in the free States, who wish to indulge in a tilt against the Anti-Slavery sentiment.

6. If the Express wants to know what sort of defeat" is incurred by Whigs who stand on AntiSlavery ground, he can look at the vote of the Second Congressional District, where Lewis Campbell is recleted by a larger Whig majority than the District ever gave.

7. The Whigs of Ohio are both National Whigs and Anti-Slavery—and they have never learned that it was necessary to separate these two principles, nor are they likely to separate them, in order to pay court to the gentlemen of the proSlavery School, or to have the honor of sustaining such Whigs as the Express may approve.

Slavery School, or to have the honor of sustaining such Whigs as the Express may approve.

8. If the slang of "thick lips and woolly heads," uttered against a much wronged race, is pleasing to the people of New-York, they are very unlike the people of Ohio, who, whatever may be their opinions, take no pleasance in the abuse of the weak and the oppressed. A White of 1828.

unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we see nothing in the action of the Whig Syracuse State Convention that calls for any division among Whigs. It has simply given free and foreible atterance to Whig sentiment, on the subject of Slavery, as recognized and ecknowledged in times past, and as such commends itself to the approval and confidence of the friends of Humanity and Freedom every where.

Resolved, That we are opposed to the extension of Slavery into Territories where it does not exist, and are prepared to rests its encroachments at all times, under all circumstances, and to the last extremity.

Resolved, That the Fugtive Slave Bill is a bad bill, that ought never to have been put into circulation. It is revoting in its features, repugnant to all our notions of personal rights, dangerous in its execution, and of such doubtill constitutionality, that, irrespective of other and pressing objections, it ought to be repealed at the earliest practicable moment.

Resolved. That WM. H. SEWARD has been fearless and faithful to the interests of this great State; and that while others demand that Messrs. Clay, Wobster, and Crittenden shall be permitted to remain in the Whig party, we are equally resolved that New-York's favorite Scantor shall not be rained out.

Resolved, That these are the Principles, the Purposes and the Platform of the Whig Party. Our candidates are firmly piedged, by action and declaration, to the sontiments which they embody; and on the issues which they present and enforce, we are prepared to go to the polls and abide the verdict of a candid and intelligent people.

Every working Whig can answer this question. Ten active men in each Election Disfrict, with their hearts in their work, can effect an organization which will insure a full vote. The process is simple. First, a Poll List of all the voters in the Election District. Second, a sub-division of the List by School Districts, with two or three working Whigs, to see that every vote is checked in good season; and, Third, Teams to carry voters to the polls early in the day. With such an organization, effectively carried out, our State Ticket will have a majority of 10,000, and a Whig Legislature will be able to elect a Whig United States Senator. [Alb. Evening Jour.

It is understood that, on inquiry of the Marshal, Judge Sprague has intimated that the process for the arrest of a fugitive slave is in the nature of civil process—that, in serving it, an officer will not be justified in breaking open the outer door of any dwelling house—that every dwelling house is the castle of its occupants. This application of a familiar principle of the common law promises to give security to a certain extent to the unfortunate class of fugitives claimed as slaves. It must be borne in mind, however, that this protection is confined to the dwelling house, or house where a person sleeps, and not to his place of business. It is also confined to the outer door. If this is left open, or if the Marshal is admitted within it, he may break open any inner door.

He stated his case to several colored citizens, and had no trouble to find true friends. A day or two since the Virginian who claimed the runaway, flesh and blood, as his property, arrived in this city in pursuit of the negro, and the fact soon becoming known to one or two of those who are "determined to stay away or die," they communicated the circumstance to certain members of the "Vigilant Committee," appointed at the late meeting in Fancuil Hall. Measures were promptly taken, first, to see that the property was safe, and secondly, to ascertain the truth of the rumor that the "hunter" was in the city. The fact of his presence among us, and his mission being ascertained beyond a doubt, the negro was quietly conveyed out of the city, and more than twenty-four hours have now claysed since he was beyond the reach of his former master. Thus has quietly ended the first "furtive sleye case," in Haston. A SLAVE HUNTER FOILED .- About two years mer master. Thus has quietly ended the first "fugitive slave case" in Boston.

We have received from London a long and snimated letter from Mr. Grouge BYAM, formerly of the 23d Light Infantry in the British Army, in reply to certain strictures made by Mr. Squier, late Charge to Central America in The Tribune of books which Mr. Byam has written upon Central America "trasby," accused him of wanting knowllike those of Mons. On all this Mr. B. remarks in a strain of indignation and invective, which it would not be edifying to give at length. Enough to say that he thinks Mr. Squier is no gentleman, and rather a bad hand at English grammar. The statements made by Mr. S. with regard to Central America, he pronounces to be misrepresentations, the climate of the San Juan and the coast, he says is bad, snakes and wild animals do abound on the banks of the river, such fortifications as Mr. Squier speaks of arc not there, the forests are dense and impenetrable, and Mr. S. himself writes for a special object which prevents his telling the

Such is the substance of Mr. Byam's letter, which comes to us accompanied by high testimonials as to his respectability; in justice to both parties we ought to add that we do not think his angry assertion is any proof at all that he is right the least impaired our confidence in the reliability of the late Chargé to Nicaragua, though we suspect he may have been quite too hasty and sweeping in his condemnation of the English traveler.

The Nicaragua Canal—Loan Negotiated.

From the London Times, Oct. 14.

The junction of the Atlantic and Pacific may almost be regarded as a work commenced. On the 13th of February, 1849, we described the Nicaragua route, urging the attention of capitalists to its advantages; and the American Company, by whom agents were subsequently dispatched to obtain a concession from the Government of that country, have now not only two steamers upon the waters of the San Juan for the purpose of establishing a temporary transit, but have also a corps of 12 engineers actively engaged in the surveys for the canal. The head of the party is Mr. O W. Childs, lately chief engineer of the State of New-York, under whose charge was conducted the recent enlargement of the Eric Canal.

The Nicaragua route to California, across the Isthmus, saves 900 miles, as compared with Panama, and has the advantage of a healthy climate. Hopes seem to be entertained, mereover, that the temporary transit, when it shall be fully organized, may be accomplished in 24 hours. It will commence from Grey Town, ascend the San Juan, and cross the lake to the City of Nicaragua, where a land journey of only fiften miles remains to reach the Pacific. The contemplated fare for the passage is $50, including 250 pounds of baggage for each passenger. This is lower than the charge at Panama, and consequently the saving of distance and the advantage of health will be also accompanied by a more than proportionate diminution of expense. Nothing in connection with the present movements on the Pacific will be watched with more interest than these proceedings. It has been commonly reported that the number who crossed the Isthmus last year was 70,000, and the lowest estimute was 50,000. The increasing excitement regarding California and the shortening of the distance, coupled with the remayal of inconveniences and dangers, give the stimulus of still better prospects for the future. Should everything go, therefore, as smoothly as appears to be calculated upon, a year or two to San Francisco.

The charter granted by the State of Nicaragoa provides that the Caual is to be completed in 12 years. The Company are to have the exclusive enjoyment of it for 85 years after the date of completion, and to receive 15 per cent. out of the net profits for the further period of 10 or 20 years. Meanwhile they are to have a monopoly of the temperary route. They are also to have the exclusive privilege of steam navigation and of roadmaking throughout the entire State for 97 years, together with a free grant of eight sections of land of six miles square, to be chosen by themselves on together with a free grant of eight sections of land of six miles square, to be chosen by themselves on the banks of the Canal. In return for these privileges, the State of Nicaragna is to receive nothing, with the exception of some minor payments, until 7 per cent shall have been paid to the stockholders. Of all profits exceeding 7 per cent, it is to receive one fifth during the first 20 years, and one-fourth thereafter. The minor payments consist of £2,000 a year until the completion of the Canal, and a donation of £40,000 of its stock.

The two governments of Great Britain and the United States have bound themselves to the enterprise by a treaty of protection. All the other

United States have bound themselves to the enterprise by a treaty of protection. All the other powers will accord to it the same advantage.—
The territory around it will constitute the first neutral ground, whence, by the pledged faith of all civilized nations, strife must be forever banished. It is the grandest physical work the world can witness. The past has seen nothing like it, and any similar fame must be equally denied to the future, since there will be no more hemispheres to join. Is it destined, it will be asked, that in a design which must thus stand alone and unapproach. sign which must thus stand alone and unapproach sign which must thus stand alone and anapproach-able in the records of material progress, England, as an active agent, is to have no part? From all that appears on the surface, the answer would be in the affirmative; and looking at it as the penal-ty of a mania in which it was denounced as trea-sonable to question the spending of £300,000,000 a year in analagous operations, the humiliation would be as deserved as it would be ineffaceable. Happily, however it has been averted.

Throughout their entire negotiations, it has always been known that the New-York Company have desired that the work should be one of co-operation between the two countries, and in this spirit, although surrounded by violent political in-fluences that would have urged a different result, a promise was given to Sir Henry Bulwer that an equal participation in the enterprise should be offered to this country on reasonable terms. To fulfill that pledge two Commissioners from the Company, Messrs. White and Vanderbilt, arrived Company, Messrs. White and Vanderbilt, arrived in London on the 5th ultimo, and after a short period of negotiation a satisfactory arrangement was completed this afternoon. That such has been the case, it must at the same time be stated, is owing to the straigtforward and moderate requirements of the New York Company, and to the sagacity and patriotism of our two leading mercantile firms, and also of the Governor of the Hudson's Bay Company, Sir Henry Pelly By the course which has been adopted, these parties, conjointly with others, will possess the power of offering to the British public in due time one-half share of the enterprise, the exercise of which power will depend, we understand, upon its being demonstrated to the satisfaction of government engineers pend, we understand, upon its being demonstra-ted to the satisfaction of government engineers that the estimates of outlay and income will be such as to warrant the most unquestionable reli-ance. The offer, therefore, will not be put forth until severl months' further experience of what is passing on the coast of the Pacific shall have ena-bled all persons to judge for themselves as to the eagerness or otherwise with which it should be accented and we are discussed to articipate that eagerness or otherwise with which it should be accepted, and we are disposed to anticipate that enough will speedily transpire to render it certain that the undertaking will then be pushed to completion by the accumulated force of a blended confidence and enthusiasm, such as will more than compensate for all our past delays.

To observe only the movement, still and noise less, among the people, and the bustle of action maratime forces, one would suppose that great events might be looked for; but for the consumation of any sinister designs we do not perceive the means, nor do we learn of anything defini from other quarters to induce the belief that aid in necessary material and munitions will be had. The steamer Pizarro, of some fame in catching innocent people, after returning from the inspection of our coast from the Belize to Pensacola, again passed to sea on the night of the 18th inst with a Schooner of War in tow, it is said, for the supervision of the coast near Cape San Antonio. Capt Hartstein, of the steamer Falcon, has been questioned as to a rumor that a long, dark, rakish looking steamer was seen in the vicinity of Moriel, in very suspicious contiguity with the shore; but he had no confirmation to give, although he had seen the whole coast at the time of this supposed landing. The cry is still they come, but either green branches give impervious cover to their approach, or they have not been so very verdant as to expose to the world their plans. With all the deep excitement, there are no murmurs of discontent, but muttered curses against the "pirates," such as fell upon the ear from every quarter on and previous to the 19th of May, of Cardenas celebrity; yet the banners are upon the outer walls, and there is a din of preparation for—the Lord knows what. TRUSS and SUPPORTER PADS are now being fitted at the above office. These Pads, adapted to the inguinal regions, so press upon the line of rapture as to dislouge the bowel or other viscera from the linguinal cannils, causing in the latter a complete collapse, being subjected to two pressures—that of the bowels from within and of the pad from without. This pressure being moderate, continued and direct, a sufficient curative inflammation is induced to obligate the malady in the greater number of cases.
